

SOURCEBOOK

The Best Kitchen and Bath Products Coming in 2018

Each year, KBIS showcases the latest innovations from the kitchen and bath sphere—the spaces that homeowners are spending more time in and more money renovating. With the new year come new products and trends in these areas. Sleek designs and darker finishes on fittings continue to be popular, while many companies introduced appliances in brighter shades of blue. Innovative and durable surfaces also play a prominent role when creating kitchens, and several graphic designs were on display last week. When it comes to technology, the connected home has become integral to the lifestyle on offer. Showers, faucets, refrigerators, and ovens now have the ability to connect to your phone, tablet, and Alexa, which seemed to be the device that was at almost every booth. While it may take some time for this type of living to become widespread, filling the bathtub while on the commute home or preheating the oven at grocery store will soon become second nature.

VIEW SLIDESHOW →VIEW AS A LIST

Cosentino Dekton by Cosentino unveiled the DeKauri bath credenza designed by Daniel Germani, which was HIDE CAPTION ✕ a true highlight of the show. Each freestanding enclosed bathroom is made from 50,000-year-old Kauri wood and features Dekton surfaces, Fantini Rubinetti faucets, and lighting from Juniper Design.